

Directions: On a new sheet of paper, write the correct heading. This will be warm ups for week one. Make sure that each day you label the day of the week, and the date. (Remember, the date is on the back board.) If you are absent on one of the days of the week, you need to write absent for that day. You do not need to make of the missing day. If you are absent, you need to turn in your warm ups for the week on the day you return.

Day 1 Monday account account (noun) -a written or spoken description of something that has happened

-Each student will give an account of the class field trip.

1. Complete the sentence. You need to write out the entire sentence, not just the part you added.

An account of my family's best vacation would include _____ .

2. Your parent wants an account of your after-school activities. What do you need to provide?

- a. how much you spend on snacks
- b. a teacher's signature on your homework
- c. a description of what you did after school
- d. evidence that you go to school

3. You are to read an account of a person's trip to another country. Which of these would you not expect to learn?

- a. details about what happened on the trip
- b. what the person's life is like at home
- c. information on the places that the person visited
- d. how the person felt about the trip

Day 2 Tuesday account for account for (verb) -to explain

-We can account for the missing equipment, which was loaned to another team.

1. Complete the sentence. You need to write out the entire sentence, not just the part you added.

I had to account for my whereabouts when _____ .

2. Your teacher asks you to account for a math error you made. What do you need to do?

- a. do extra work to make up for a bad grade
- b. correct the error you made
- c. count the number of math errors you have made lately
- d. explain why you think you made the error

3. Which sentence uses account for correctly?
- Our team needs to account for why we lost the game.
 - If we had an account for the game, we would win.
 - Let's invite the winners to account for us.
 - When there is an account for winning, everyone is happy.

Day 3 Wednesday version version (noun) -a description or account from a particular point of view

-Each child has a different version of how the window was broken.

1. Complete the sentence. You need to write out the entire sentence, not just the part you added.

A friend and I once gave different versions of how _____ .

2. You are reading a character's version of an even in a story. What does that mean?
- You are getting the character's description of the event.
 - No one in the story knows about the event.
 - The story is about an event that really happened.
 - You are reading a description of the character.

3. Which phrase would not be used to describe two people's versions of an event that took place two years ago?

- similar in most respects
- different in some details
- completely identical
- mostly the same

Day 4 Thursday version

version (noun) -a change or different form of something
-Adam chose to include a pink rose instead of a red rose in his version of the flower painting.

1. Complete the sentence. You need to write out the entire sentence, not just the part you added.

I have heard different versions of the song “ _____.”

2. Which statement explains how to make a new version of your favorite sandwich?
- Make the exact some sandwich you always make.
 - Make another kind of sandwich and not your favorite sandwich.
 - Don't make a sandwich at all.

- d. Make your favorite sandwich but use a new kind of bread.
3. A particular movie is a version of a popular book. What does that mean?
- a. The movie is not as popular as the book.
 - b. The movie is based on the book but is different in some ways.
 - c. The movie is boring.
 - d. The movie is more fun to watch than reading the book.

Day 5 Friday account account for version Mini Quiz

Take the mini quiz and then turn in your warm ups for the week.

1. Which word is a synonym for account?
- A. report
 - B. problem
 - C. pattern
 - D. dream
2. Which of these describes what you are doing when you account for your behavior?
- A. trying to control your behavior
 - B. promising to improve your behavior
 - C. giving an explanation of your behavior
 - D. learning new behavior
3. In which sentence could version fill in the blank?
- A. The _____ to this problem is hard to find.
 - B. That event would make a good _____ in a movie.
 - C. We can _____ the story to make it more interesting.
 - D. His _____ of the accident was different from mine.
4. To create a version of something, what do you need to do?
- A. ruin it

B. change it

C. clean it

D. count it