

Depositing Money in a Savings Account

A savings account works like this. You take your money and passbook to the bank. Then you fill out a deposit slip. You give the deposit slip, the money, and your passbook to a bank teller. The teller will record your deposit in your passbook and give you a receipt. This receipt shows that the bank received your money. Your money is now safe and insured and ready to earn interest.

Directions: Fill in the deposit slips below. Your account number is 13429. Use your own name and address.
